The University of Tennessee certificate rehabilitation formations (CCRP/CCMT/ CERP, etc.) are the only RACE approved and globally appreciated university based credential programs in this field.

The high standards for admission and the curriculum assure graduates that these credentials are recognized as the premiere education in veterinary rehabilitation.

These courses are set up as blended learning programs. They have been adapted to the COVID pandemic.

In detail:

All our formations consist of e-learning, interactive classroom sessions and labs only during the presence days. We work in small groups in the virtual classrooms, during the labs and also when working up cases.

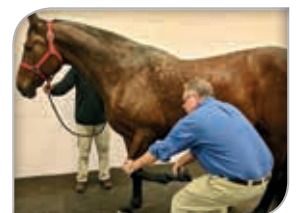

Depending on the formation, an externship might be mandatory but all courses finish with case reports and exams and are certified by UT if you pass.

As we all spend a very intensive time together, there is a lot of opportunity to further discuss open questions beyond the course hours. This makes this education so effective. We start early in this education to become a community of professionals with a common goal: to improve survival and quality of life of our patients.

We not only teach you but coach you through your specialization and beyond.

Warm regards

Dr. Beate Egner
CEO and Course Director
